NELLIE NEWMAN RICE [1891- ?]

Father: George Wesley Newman
Mother: Lillian (Lillie) May Barrow

Nellie Newman Rice and husband Jesse, lived many years in Omaha, Nebraska. She lived long after Jesse died, and was confined to Nursing Home care for several years. I recall seeing a letter from an attorney at the time of her death. She is listed in a CD ROM for Social Security death benefits. As soon as I obtain this CD I will add the time of her death.

There were no children. I never met Nellie, although she was living in the nursing home in Omaha after Georgann and I moved to South Dakota. I was not that interested in genealogy earlier and did not know she was still living. I can remember my dad telling of their visit to Omaha while I was just an infant. It was during the winter and they got caught in a snow storm and had to go back across the Missouri River and down the west side to St. Joseph, Missouri where they stayed with a "Bud" Wheeler family, dad's third cousin, a grand son of John A. Wheeler, brother of Frank Wheeler. I believe that was in the early 1930's. I do not know where Jesse and Nellie are buried. Somewhere in Omaha, I imagine.

Father: George Wesley Newman
Mother: Lillian (Lillie) May Barrow

I do not know why Roy Newman moved to Iowa or the exact date. I remember their visits to our home in Missouri many times. Especially when he visited with Anna Lee Vanvacter and her son Harold. We always had watermelon in the summer. On one occasion he said, "I will have to sleep in the bathtub with the plug out!"

When Georgann and I moved to Brookings, South Dakota in 1962 we often stopped on the way home to Missouri to stay with Roy and Mamie. I sang at both Roy's and Mamie's funeral in Webster City.

Roy's son Wesley was in the US Army in the Philipines when the war with Japan broke out in 1941. He was taken a prisoner on Batan and was in the death march in which many American soldiers died. He survived and was taken to Japan to work in the mines where he died in an explosion, June 6, 1943.

I have a Christmas card that he sent to my mother. It has a picture of palm trees and native huts on stilts on the shore. It may have been taken in the Philipines.

In later years while living in Webster City, Roy worked as janitor for a nearby school. Georgann and I have many fond memories of our visits with Roy and Mamie. They had a miniture Poodle which they were very attached to. He always slept with Roy. Roy shaved with an electic razor, and he would ask the Poodle if he wanted to shave, and it seemed to understand a go where the razor was. I should also mention Roy and Mamie's cars. they alway took good care of them and kept them in the garage. The first one that I remember was an Oldsmobile. I believe it was one of the earlier compact cars built. He came to Missouri with it. One time the carborator needle stuck open and wouldn't shut off or sped up before he could stop. The second car was a Chevy Nova which Mamie kept until she died. She used to decorate it in Red White and Blue for Holiday Parades in Webster City. Of all the Newman aunts and uncles I felt the closest to Roy and Mamie, perhaps because we saw them the most after living in South Dakota. We visited a couple of times when cousin Larry was there. We always went for pork tenderloin sandwiches in Webster City. Most places in Missouri and South Dakota do not have them.

MARIE NETTIE NEWMAN ADAMS [1895-1967]

Father: George Wesley Newman

Mother: Lillian (Lillie) Barrow

Aunt Nettie, as I remember her, was a character (and strange to me when I was young). She always wore mascara and much makeup. She had a dry sense of humor and a funny laugh. I do not recall seeing her but only on funeral occasions. She must have lived where uncle Roy lived in Woolstock, Iowa. Her husband was from there, William Shannon Adams. I know they had two sons and possibly a third, Ray Adams. He may have only been related to Shannon and Gayle, Nettie's sons. I recall the names "big" Shannon and "little" Shannon, whether this referred to father and son I do not know. Ray and Shannon were good auto mechanics and worked for local garages in Centralia area. Gayle I can remember as a youth was cared for and stayed with a Miss Hilzer on south Allen Street. My family was living on West Lakeview and I would see them setting on the porch swinging and I would visit briefly with them. Miss (or Mrs.) Hilzer was a member of the church of Christ in Centralia where our family attended.

I do not remember much about, or ever meeting uncle William "Bill" Adams.

Aunt Nettie lived away for Centralia most of the time I knew her. She lived in Kansas City for awhile, and lived later in California. She was an excellent cook and lived and worked for a family in California who took care of her until she died in 1967. She is buried in Ventura, California, Ivy Lawn Cemetery, Section H, Lot No. 109, Grave No. 1. She died September 15, 1967. This is according to records among the guardian of aunt Mable, her sister, now also deceased.

Gayle Adams, took his own life. I do not remember the date, but it was not very many years ago. It was after I came to South Dakota.

Shannon Adams lived in Centralia, Missouri where he died April 6, 1988 at age 66. I have a copy of his obituary (a copy is under Shannon Adams family). I do not recall ever knowing his wife, Viola or meeting their children.

GERTRUDE (GERTIE) CECIL NEWMAN [1897-1947]

Father: George Wesley Newman

Mother: Lillian (Lillie) May Barrow

The earliest that I remember of aunt Gertie is when she lived with her family on a farm that was located on the road that goes to Madison (county road 151 today, just west of Sunnysdale Academy). I can remember a song that Helen and Dorothy sang when we played together. I believe it was called "Playmate"; one phrase I remember was "look down my rain barrel, slide down my cellar door, and we'll be jolly friends for ever more." There was also a song about a "rubber dolly". They attended a rural school where I can remember attending some festivity with my parents.

They lived in Centralia at the time Leonard died in 1942. We lived on East Lakeview and they lived down the lane about one block south of where we lived. I believe they lived in the house my dad had built. Leonard had gone to Wilson Drug store and purchased a bottle of carbolic acid and drank it. I was there when the doctor came and said there was nothing that he could do. I was only 11 at the time. Mr. Wilson felt very bad about it, and I believe he paid for the funeral expense, or offered to.

I believe Helen and Maurice Cook are living today in the same house or the same area where her father died in Centralia.

Aunt Gertie had breast cancer and died about 5 years later. Three members of the Newman family died of cancer, her sister (my mother), Kittie in 1953 and a brother, Roy Newman in 1981.

MABEL ELLEN NEWMAN WHITE [1903-1994]

Father: George Wesley Newman
Mother: Lillian (Lillie) May Barrow

Aunt Mabel was a good soul who lived a hard life. I do not know all the circumstances surrounding her marriage to Owen White, I never met him that I can recall. I barely remember the two daughters. I do not think she every got over the drowning of her daughter. I do know, sadly, that the other daughter would have nothing more to do with her mother. As far as I know, she never saw her mother again after moving to California. I do not know if she is still living, I tried getting her phone number in Palo Alto, California, but none was listed under her married name of Altrogge.

Her mind was not always sound. She lived alone most of her life. Living and working as a nurses aid in nursing homes mostly. She lived in Columbia, Missouri for awhile, but mostly in Centralia, Missouri. I remember her working in the Way nursing home, where the current Senior Citizen Center is now located on South Allen Street. Later she lived in her own house in northwestern part of Centralia. She was in a nursing home in Huntsville, where we visited her when we came back to Missouri from South Dakota. When that home was closed she was moved to Loma Linda home in Moberly, Missouri where she stayed until she died in the spring of 1994.

Georgann and I saw her shortly before she died. She was in the Regional Hospital in Moberly and unable to communicate, although she did respond slightly to our questions. She died shortly afterward but no one informed us of it as they were supposed to. We learned of her death when my aunt saw a notice in the Mexico, Missouri newspaper. Sadly, she is one of those elderly persons that are so often left alone with seemingly no one but strangers to care for them.

She was a good seamstress. She could cut a pattern from newspaper and make a pair of bib overalls, as she did on one ocasion for my son Gary. On another time I walked to work at the "Guard" in winter. I seldom wore a cap. She saw me going by the Way nursing home without one. That evening she brought a stocking cap to me to wear to work to "keep my ears warm"--god bless her.

Georgann and I saw her shortly before she died. She was in the Regional Hospital in Moberly and unable to communicate, although she did respond slightly to our questions. She died shortly afterward but no one informed us of it as they were supposed to. We learned of her death when my aunt saw a notice in the Mexico, Missouri newspaper. Sadly, she is one of those elderly persons that are so often left alone with seemingly no one but strangers to care for them.

She was a good seamstress. She could cut a pattern from newspaper and make a pair of bib overalls, as she did on one occasion for my son Gary. On another time I walked to work at the "Guard" in winter. I seldom wore a cap. She saw me going by the Way nursing home without one. That evening she brought a stocking cap to me to wear to work to "keep my ears warm"--god bless her.

SALLY WHEELER [1907- ?]

Father: George Wesley Newman

Mother: Lillian (Lillie) May Barrow

Sally Wheeler was secretary to Gano Chance of the A. B. Chance Company before her death. I remember her as very ill at our home in Centralia when very young. I do not know the nature of her illness, except she was almost insane caused by the severity of her pain. The only thing that comes to mind was her rolling on the floor, with uncle Curtis between her and the heating stove so she would not burn herself. She never married. She is buried in the Centralia city cemetery on the western edge of the cemetery.

CURTIS NEWMAN

Father: George Wesley Newman
Mother: Lillian (Lillie) May Barrow

Curtis lived with his mother in rural Boone County, Missouri. He did not marry until older. (I have a copy somewhere among my files of their marriage record).

I do not recall if she was previously married or not, although she had a son, Jimmy, that lived south of Council Bluff, Iowa in a rural area (we went to his home after the funeral for Curtis, which was held in Council Bluff). We met his wife and some children, but he was away on business. They had a very nice home back along the "bluffs" of the Missouri River on the Iowa side. Her surname was Cook on the marriage licence.

Curtis farmed most all of his life. Esther was a school teacher, teaching in rural Boone County and also in Centralia, Missouri elementary schools when she retired. He farmed land southwest of Centralia at first. I remember he used a team of horses to cultivate and plant. Later, he and Esther bought land between Centralia and Mexico, Missouri on what is called Possum Trot road or lane. We visited them several times while living there. Later he rented the land and did cabinet making. Curtis was always good working with his hands, and was well known for his wood-working. He did enjure his finger, losing a finger I believe, in a power saw.

Curtis, like his mother, had goiter, as did his sister, Mabel. He did not have it removed until later in life. When Curtis and Esther retired from Possum Trot farm, they spent winters in retirement quarters in Texas on the Rio Grand river. They had a fifth-wheel camper and truck. Curtis crafted stones and they enjoyed their retirement time together. Curtis later had alzheimer disease and was place in nursing care in Glenwood, Iowa where he died. He was cremated after funeral services, and his ashes were scattered in Omaha lilac garden.

Aunt Esther stayed the night with us once while on her way to visit retirement friends in Fargo, North Dakota. We have not heard from her for some time.
